The weather bureau promises fair weather for the campaign opening here tomorrow.
Hon. John M. Pattison will arrive on a special train on the Panhandle at 11 o'clock, and will be escorted to the Warden Hotel.
Zanesville people have ordered a special B. & O. of 12 cars to bring 1000 people to Newark.
Cincinnati, Cleveland, Mansfield and other cities promise to send delegations. Every precinct in Licking county will be represented.
The Buckeye band and Veteran drum corps will accompany the reception committees to the trains to meet the visitors.
All business houses are to be decorated tonight.
Judge Hunter will preside at the afternoon and evening meetings. Speaking begins from the south steps of the courthouse at 1 p. m. Afternoon speakers: Pattison, Honck, Rice, Powell, Campbell and Hunter.
Members of the reception committee will meet at City hall at 10 a. m. Saturday.
Press headquarters will be at Elks' club rooms.

Newark will extend a glad hand of welcome to the thousands of people who are expected here tomorrow to hear the opening shots in the state campaign. The weather man has promised to be good and if he is, Newark will have an immense crowd on its hands.

This morning Zanesville wired that a dozen coaches had been engaged to bring a thousand people to Newark at one o'clock Saturday afternoon on a special train. Bauer's band will come along. Mansfield has promised a good delegation and word from Cincinnati, Cleveland, Columbus and other cities indicates that the attendance will be satisfactory but the great bulk of the crowd will naturally come from towns near Newark and from the country. The meeting has been very thoroughly advertised.

This morning the work of constructing the speakers' stand at the south steps of the court house was commenced and at the same time decorations about town began to appear. The committee visited all the business men about the public square and on streets leading to the square and received their promise to decorate their stores in honor of the occasion.

Special reception committees have been appointed as follows: To receive Hon. John M. Pattison, Judge S. M. Hunter, Joseph H. Newton, John A. Dwyer and Julius Juch: committee for Mr. Rice, J. Howard Jones, H. H. Sparks and Wayne Collier: committee for ex-Gov. Campbell, Judge J. D. Jones, T. B. Fulton and Judge E. M. P. Brister. Other special committees will be named later.

At a meeting of the general reception committee in the city last night, presided over by Chairman A. C. Davis, details for tomorrow were arranged and after deciding to increase the committee from 60 to 100 members, an adjournment until 10 o'clock tomorrow morning was taken.

General Manager J. R. Harrigan has been requested to keep the city and interurban street cars off the south side of the square tomorrow so as not to interfere with the speechmaking, which is to begin at 1 o'clock.

Judge Samuel M. Hunter of this city, who will be chairman of the oc-casian, will speak briefly and will introduce Hon. John M. Pattison, the Democratic candidate for governor, Hon. Lewis B. Houck of Mt. Vernon, candidate for lieutenant governor, Hon. James A. Rice, candidate for attorney general, ex-Gov. James E. Campbell and Hon. Thomas E. Powell of Columbus.

The details for the evening meeting have not as yet been completed but both the afternoon and evening meetings will be held in the court house park.

Headquarters for the editors of Ohio and correspondents who will be in the city have been established in the Elks club where everything for the convenience and pleasure of the visiting newspaper men has been arranged. In the club rooms which are conveniently located in the Postoffice block, typewriters, messengers and various supplies will be provided and the following Press committee is in charge: C. H. Spencer, George L. Warner, Ralph Davis, Homer M. Stivers, Col. W. C. Wells and Charles E. Matthews. State Chairman Garber telegraphed from Columbus today that a special train carrying Hon. John M. Pattison, Hon. Thomas E. Powell and the Columbus delegation will reach Newark at 11 o'clock tomorrow morning.

One of the features of the day will be the appearance of a monster drum corps organized by Col. Cliff Rosebrough. In this drum corps men who have not played martial music for twenty years will play the drum and life in honor of the lover of martial music, Hon. John M. Pattison.

The visiting delegations will be met at the railway stations by the reception committee, accompanied by the Buckeye Band and Drum Corps.

With the Zanesville delegation will come the oldest brass band in Ohio, headed by the venerable leader, John Bauer.
Mr. Murphy of Cincinnati, who has been here several days assisting the local committee in the decorations, has flooded the place with Pattison flags and the citizens, regardless of politics will decorate profusely in honor of the visit of the Democratic leaders. Mr. Murphy said today that Newark will be decorated as it never was before.

J. Howard Jones, secretary of the County Executive committee, received a telephone message this morning from Mr. Harry Buell of Zanesville, that arrangements had been made with the B. & O. to furnish twelve coaches, to carry about a thousand people from the Clay City, who will attend the opening of the Democratic campaign on Saturday. The train will be run as a special and will arrive in Newark about 1 o'clock.

Negotiations are approaching a conclusion for the construction of the Russian railways through northern Persia.

BIG DEALS OF NEW YORK LIFE

George Perkins Again Testifies at the Legislative Hearing.

CORRECTS PREVIOUS REPLY

Acknowledges the Company Sustained a Loss of Three Hundred Thousand in the New Orleans Traction Transaction—Expenditures of the Society a Subject of Investigation.

New York, Sept. 22.—At the session of the special legislative committee that is probing insurance company methods, George W. Perkins, vice president of New York Life, was again called as a witness. The main point was the witness' disclosure in the New Orleans Traction Syndicate in which the company sustained a loss of over $300,000. Counsel Hughes attempted to probe the collateral loan account. The bonds of the New Orleans Traction company had been bought for the New York Security and Trust company at 85, and subsequently sold at 75. Mr. Perkins testified they were sold on Dec. 31, 1903, to Fanshawe & Co. for $937,500. Mr. Hughes found under date of Jan. 5, 1905, a loan of that amount to Fanshawe & Co., and asked if the loan was made against these bonds. This, Mr. Perkins said, he would have to look up, and it was dropped for the present.

Mr. Perkins took occasion to correct his testimony of last Friday regarding the navigation bonds when he was asked if the object of the transaction between J. P. Morgan & Co. and the New York Life Insurance company was to remove the $800,000 bonds in insurance companies books and reduce their holdings temporarily from $4,000,000 to $3,200,000. Mr. Perkins answered yes, but today said: "I did not mean that; I meant to say 'no.'"

It was brought out that John R. Hegeman, president of the Metropolitan Life Insurance company, was carrying a running loan with the New York Life office of $500,000 at 1 1/2 per cent. interest. Mr. Perkins did not know whether this matter came before the financial committee, and would also look that up. Witness did not explain why, after the New York Life had bought $4,000,000 worth of bonds from J. P. Morgan & Co., $2,000,000 worth should be sold back to that firm at the same price within two months and no minute of the finance committee could be found to explain it. The deal in navigation syndicate bonds of Dec. 31, 1903, when Mr. Perkins, for the New York Life, sold Mr. Perkins, for J. P. Morgan & Co., $800,000 in these bonds, came up again when the warrant for the check of $800,266 was produced. These bonds were bought back by the New York Life two days later, and the $266, Mr. Perkins testified, was for the adjustment of interest. Mr. Perkins would not acknowledge the transaction was a loan. The total dealing of the company with the Morgan firm amounted to $39,358,075, with a profit of $784,768.19. The manner of the company's income was for the present dropped, and the way of spending the money was probed. The agency system of the company was described and at this time, Vice President Thomas A. Buckner, who has charge of the agents, was called. He stated that the total salaries of the agency inspectors were $120,000 annually. Agency directors get an average annual salary of $3,000. The latter receive about $100,000 annually in bonuses.

Twenty-five More Crosses in Michigan Cemetery Broken and Overturned Stranger Arrested.

Escanaba, Mich., Sept. 22.—Another of the peculiar raids on monuments and crosses in Roman Catholic cemeteries in this district has been made, this time at Gladstone, Mich., where 25 crosses were broken and overturned. A mysterious stranger, who was arrested on suspicion in Gladstone, is believed to have been guilty of the vandalizing. A man about 60 years of age, and dressed like a peddler, with two heavy grips, was arrested, and later released. He started out of town along the cemetery road. When watchers went to the cemetery later to guard it for fear of an attack on tombstones and crosses, they found the damage done. Scores of people are searching the country about Gladstone for the stranger.

IN SUIT CASE

Trunk of Girl's Body With Head Missing

NO CLEW TO BOSTON MYSTERY

AUTOPSY IS BEING CONDUCTED BY AUTHORITIES TODAY

Evidence of Criminal Operation Found—Girl Suffered from Appendicitis—A Growsome Case.

Boston, Sept. 22.—State Detectives Rhoades and Keating were detailed by Deputy Chief Neal this morning to work on the girl murder mystery with the police. Neal said he felt certain the young woman died from the after-effects of a criminal operation; that he felt reasonably certain of the place in which the operation was performed and that a clew had been found as to the person who put the suit case in the water.

Boston, Mass., Sept. 22.—In a suit case the nude trunk of the body of a young girl with the head, arms and legs neatly severed, floated in the flood tide into the anchorage of the fashionable Winthrop yacht club house in that town late yesterday. There is no clew to the identification of the woman and the police are confronted with one of the blindest mysteries in years. From the manner in which the work was done it is believed the dismemberment of the body was performed by a surgeon. There was evidence of a criminal operation.

Aside from the fact that an operation for appendicitis had been performed within a measurable length of time there are no important clews to the identity of the girl.

From the appearance of the suit case it is believed that the body had not been in the water over 24 hours. Deep and growsome as the mystery is there is some reason to believe that the girl died as the result of an operation of a criminal nature and that the horrible mutilation of the body was done in an effort to dispose of it and to prevent tracing the perpetrators of the crime through this means. It is supposed that the suit case was thrown overboard from some steamer. An autopsy is being held today.

INVESTIGATION

Into Methods of Western Indemnity Life Has Been Ordered By Insurance Superintendent.

Chicago, Sept. 22.—An investigation of business methods of the Western Indemnity Life, an assessment insurance association for which an application for a receivership has been made by policy-holders, is to be made by the state superintendent of insurance. Attorney General William H. Stead, of Illinois, has already begun an investigation of the affairs of the insurance company and officials, and in the course of a few days the state superintendent of insurance will summon all the officials of the company before him and compel them to answer questions concerning charges of fraudulent voting of contracts and alleged illegal voting of proxies and an attempt to transfer the entire company to another corporation.

EXTORTION

Alleged at Gatesburg, Ill.—Letters Are Sent To Prominent Farmers Demanding Money.

Galesburg, Ill., Sept. 22.—Charles M. Yelm, an alleged gambler and Bononi Kinner, who is alleged to be half armed, were arrested here charged with attempting to extort money by threats from Daniel Doubler, George Elmer, William Oates and Josiah Jacques, wealthy farmers living near Williamsville, 20 miles east. For a number of weeks, Yelm, it is alleged, has been sending letters to the farmers demanding from $100 to $1,000 in blackmail money and threatening to burn their farms.

GRANTS RIGHT OF ASSEMBLY

For the Discussion of Political and Economic Questions.

CZAR'S LATEST CONCESSION

Project Practically Completed by a Select Committee and Will Soon Be Laid Before the Emperor—Contains Certain Restrictions, But Is a Great Constitutional Advance.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 22.—A project for granting the Russian people under certain limitations the right of assembly for the discussion of political and economic questions, a reform second in importance only to the convocation of the representative assembly and which elaborated by a committee under the presidency of Count Ignatieff is now practically completed and after a final review by the Solsky commission on Saturday, will be immediately laid before Emperor Nicholas. Its promulgation is confidently expected early next week. Though coupled with a number of restrictions designed to give the authorities oversight of proceedings in order to prevent discussion of treasonable or sedition subjects, this reform will mark a great constitutional advance, the people hitherto having had no general right of assembly except at meetings of authorized societies. Under the proposed law, all citizens are required to give three days' notice of a meeting and its purposes. Special sanction for a meeting is not required and the possibility of bureaucratic delays is thereby obviated, but the government reserves the right to prohibit objectionable meetings.

The government reserves the right to have a representative present at every meeting, to see that the discussions do not overstep the limits allowed. This representative may demand the names and addresses of all the speakers and the assembly may be closed if the speakers deviate from the announced program or in case of disorder.

The second leading article of the bill of rights demanded by the reformers will make popular representation truly successful. This means the freedom of the press and will probably not take the form of law at this juncture, as the government wishes to submit the matter to the national society for consideration. It is said, however, that an informal announcement will soon be made that the enforcement of the press laws will be relaxed during the campaign so as to permit of ample discussion of measures and candidates. It is also understood that after Jan. 1 next, representatives of the press will be admitted to the sessions of the council of the empire so that publicity may be given to the proceedings of the upper house of the assembly.

AUTO DITCHED

While Going Thirty Miles An Hour—Several People in the Machine Very Badly Hurt.

Delphi, Ind., Sept. 22.—While Councilman James A. Shirk, president of the Citizens' National bank, was driving in his automobile along the Monticello road, he lost control of the machine, which was running at the rate of 30 miles an hour, and it dashed into an open ditch, wrecking the machine on a pile of stones. Victor L. Ricketts, editor of the Delphi Journal, and also secretary of the printing committee of the national house of representatives, was severely cut about the head and internally injured. E. L. Burkholder, county commissioner, sustained a broken leg. The other members of the party, J. W. Thomas, M. M. Murphy and Mr. Shirk were slightly injured.

ALBERS CASE

Imprisoned American Has the Matter Brought To the Attention of Acting Secretary of State Adee.

Washington, Sept. 22.—Senator Corcoran, the Nicaraguan minister, called at the state department and had an oral talk with Acting Secretary Adee, representing the case of imprisoned American, William S. Albers. The minister has received a cablegram from his government containing exactly the same information as that received by the state department, namely, that Albers had been convicted of resistance to a legal process. He expects that sentence will be imposed in the course of a few days in the usual order of things. Senator Corcoran has been assured by Mr. Cragor, one of the representatives of the Port Lamon company, whose agent Albers was, that the company did not sanction the reported dealings of Albers in tobacco, which seems to have precipitated the trouble.

Hundreds of emigrants are leaving the famine districts of Spain for South America.

FACTIONAL

Feeling is High in Rural Carriers Meeting

NEW ORGANIZATION LIKELY

CUNNINGHAM SELECTED AS PRESIDENT AGAIN

Features of President's Address and Remarks of Supt. Spellman at Convention.

Indianapolis, Sept. 22.—The factional feeling which has threatened to disrupt the proceedings of the national rural letter carriers was intensified by the selection of Frank H. Cunningham for another term of one year. By a vote of 57 to 35 the resolution continuing Cunningham in office, was carried.

The convention was addressed by W. P. Spellman, general superintendent of the rural free delivery service. Mr. Spellman said that the department recognized the carriers' right to organize. Mr. Spellman also gave answers to numerous questions that were propounded to him concerning the service.

It is said that 10 states that are unfriendly to the president, will drop out of the association and start a rival organization. It is related that a committee already has been appointed by those who are opposed to Cunningham, to draw up a constitution for the proposed new body. The anti-Cunningham faction speaks guardedly of this matter at present, however, and the delegates that are backing Cunningham say that they do not expect such action to be taken. Indiana is mentioned among the states that may become seceders.

President Cunningham, in his annual address, in touching upon the matter of salaries, said: "It is true that our salaries have been small and many of our brothers, from sheer necessity, have been compelled to resign their positions in order that they might be able to obtain means by which to provide for themselves and their families. But it is the history of nations and of any great achievements, in fact, life itself, that it is beset with reverses and troubles which must be overcome." Referring to the subject of good roads, the president said that both local and national associations should co-operate with and assist every effort to improve public highways over which rural delivery extends. Co-operation with the national good roads association was also urged. The president then spoke of the relationship between the association and the postoffice department, saying that the association now has the approval of the department, and that it should do everything in its power to follow the wishes of the department officials, as they have the welfare of the carriers at heart.

TAGGART'S DENIAL

Chairman of Democratic National Committee Says That McCall Was Asked For No Money.

New York, Sept. 22.—Chairman Taggart, of the Democratic national committee, arrived in New York from Indianapolis. He denied the statement made by President McCall, of the New York Life, before the insurance investigating committee on Wednesday that the Democratic national committee had solicited money for the campaign fund. "No member of the national committee or any agent of the committee ever asked Mr. McCall, of the New York Life, for any insurance company, for a dollar," he said.

YOUNG PEOPLE

Are To Be Addressed Next Sunday Evening By Rev. J. G. Laughlin of McArthur, Ohio.

The Young People's Societies of the city have been in the habit of meeting every three months, and the meeting next Sunday evening promises to be especially interesting.

The fact that the young people are taking a more active interest in church and political affairs, has led the officers of the Union to invite a speaker who will present a perplexing problem in a plain and practical manner.

While not affiliating itself with any political body, the young people feel sure that a fair non-partisan speaker could enlighten us considerably on the great question of the day. With this in view the Rev. J. G. Laughlin of McArthur, was invited to speak on the subject, "Young People and the Present Day Problem." Mr. Laughlin is an especially strong speaker, and has many calls to address young people's gatherings.

This meeting may be the turning point in the career of the Union, and all members of the various societies are urged to attend.

This does not restrict the attendance, for everyone will be welcome, as it is the desire of the officers and members of the Union to make this meeting one of the never-to-be-forgotten kind.

The meeting will be held Sunday evening, September 24th, at 6 o'clock, in the First Methodist church.

Some little expense will be incurred, and to meet this a basket collection will be taken. Mr. Orville Welser will be the leader of the evening.

Of the many theatrical productions this season William V. Monz's production of Jeannette Stevens' Kelley's pretty play, "The Clay Baker," is worth noting. Alexandria, Sept. 22.—The marriage of Mr. Enos O. Condit and Miss Anna Frances Moore, which took place at the home of the bride's parent, a very delightful social event. The ceremony was performed by Rev. C. F. Schell, in the presence of about seventy guests. In one corner of the parlor a bower of evergreens and autumn flowers had been arranged for the ceremony. The bride was beautifully dressed in white silk. They were attended by Mr. Lord Moore and Miss Anna Lou Bishop. Many presents were received.

Ex-Representative L. G. Ely, of Williams county, a life-long Republican, announces that he will not vote for Herrick.

Reports have come into the Cox state headquarters at Columbus from almost every Republican county in the state, "This county is in danger of giving a majority for Patterson."

Four of the big packers who were indicted in the Federal court pleaded guilty and were fined—one $10,000, and the others $5,000 each. They willingly paid the fines and were evidently glad to escape imprisonment. Fines of that amount have no terrors for trusts.

By a unanimous vote the Democratic convention of Philadelphia county endorsed the ticket nominated by the City party. As that ticket is composed entirely of Independent Republicans. It is evident that the Democrats of Philadelphia are thoroughly in earnest in their desire to promote the cause of good government in that city.

It is with great acclaim that the Republicans announce that Senator Foraker and Lieutenant Governor Harding will take part in the campaign for the governor's re-election. Just the same, Mr. Harding may be called to Mexico to look after some important interests before the campaign is very old, and Senator Foraker may get an attack of cold feet. He is said to be threatened with chilliness now. But if these distinguished apostles of the Republican faith are ardent supporters of the Herrick-Dick combination, why is so much noise made over their alleged willingness to appear in public as heretofore?

SYNDICATED CAPITAL IN POLITICS

(Springfield Republic.)

The disclosures made in the insurance investigation that the New York life insurance management contributed from the money of policyholders $50,000 to the Republican campaign fund in 1896, as much more in the campaign of 1900, and $48,702 in 1904, carry us all back to the closing days of the presidential canvass of last year. It will be recalled that Judge Parker made the charge that trusts and corporations were putting money into the Republican canvass, and he inferred from this that they were doing so from improper motives. He also intimated pretty strongly that the Republican committee was essentially blackmailing the protected trusts, and every one will recall in this connection the passionate reply made by the President in denial. That this reply, coupled with Judge Parker's failure to substantiate the charge of blackmailing, had a profound effect upon the election, is not to be questioned.

Nevertheless it now appears that when Mr. Roosevelt was hotly resenting these "slandrous accusations," as he called them, the Republican national committee, led by the President's friend, Mr. Cortelyou, was or had been soliciting contributions from an insurance company to be paid from money belonging to policyholders, thousands of whom were supporting Judge Parker in that campaign. We seem to be able to use the word "soliciting" advisedly, for Vice President Perkins of the New York life company, says in his testimony: "What was that payment for?" "That was money paid to Mr. Cornelius N. Bliss on account of the Republican national committee campaign fund of last year. We had agreed to pay him $50,000—as much as that—Mr. McCall had, if he wished it. That was all he finally called for, and it was paid in that way as cash to him."

"Do you know how the figures come to be such an odd number?" "No, sir; but I remember that Mr. McCall said to Mr. Bliss that the New York Life would contribute as much as $50,000. Mr. Bliss made various calls from time to time for amounts, which I paid myself, and when the accounts were made up toward the end of the year this amount was the amount found to be due, and that amount was paid back to me. It was not paid to J. P. Morgan & Co., but to me. I had personally advanced the money."

It does not appear that Mr. Bliss, the treasurer of the Republican committee, went to Mr. McCall of the insurance company in the first instance, but it is fairly to be presumed that he did. He knew that the company had contributed in two previous campaigns. He must have thought it would contribute again, and did not overlook the chance.

Anyhow the installment payments were asked for. Mr. Bliss knew where they were coming from. President Roosevelt most likely knew nothing about it, but his personal representative on the committee must have known and offered no protest. Whether other life insurance companies also contributed we may never know, but we do know now that money from such a company was willingly accepted, and we may easily believe that other corporations also contributed from corporations funds—including corporations having a great interest in the maintenance of the high protective tariff at the hands of the Republican administration.

And this is substantially what Judge Parker charged. He did not say in so many words, as far as we can find, that Mr. Cortelyou was demanding funds of these corporations on a threat of smashing them if they failed to contribute; but he did say that the protected trusts, for example, had an interest in the maintenance of the high tariff and were contributing in view of that interest. And this Mr. Roosevelt did not deny and evidently could not deny. He evaded the substantial charge, and dealt with an extreme implication derived therefrom, and so appeared to dispose of the charge itself. And Judge Parker's weakness was in not being able to present explicit proof regarding either the charge or the implication it was made to carry; and so the campaign ended with Judge Parker rather pitifully on the defensive.

But it now appears that he had a better case even than he could have supposed. He thought the Republican committee was drawing money from stock corporations, whose ownership is more or less limited, and might be in full harmony with the policy of turning corporation money over to a political committee. What would the country have said had he been able to show that the Republican committee was drawing money from a mutual insurance company—money belonging to tens of thousands of persons of all political beliefs, thousands of whom would have boiled with indignation had they known what was going on. How would Mr. Roosevelt have defeated that transaction? And how does Mr. Bliss or Mr. Cortelyou now defend it? Were they so blind as not to see that this money was abstracted unlawfully from a trust fund—stolen, taken covertly in part from the pockets of men who never in the world would have given it up for the purpose it was made to serve? Still they countenanced the theft, solicited the partial payments therefrom, and became thereby accessories after, if not before, the fact in what the law must consider a crime. Mr. Roosevelt resented the charge of being the political beneficiary of interested corporation contributions, though he failed to follow Judge Parker's example of instructing his campaign committee to refuse such contributions. What must be his feelings now that he finds himself to all appearances the political beneficiary of money secretly abstracted from funds held in trust for the assistance of widows and orphans?

The country is not soon to forget the revelations now being made or forego the work of dealing radically with the abuses and evils disclosed. Widespread corporation rottenness and plundering are shown to exist in a general way and under local laws, and beyond that is this entrance of syndicated capital into national politics to control public policy over the whole country in the interest of its own self-aggrandizement at the expense of the masses of the people. Here is the vast problem, the great menace to the public welfare, which is to be met, and one of the first things to strike and strike killingly. Is this practice of using corporation funds for campaign contributions. The corporation management which does that with the consent of all the stockholders is a menace to be suppressed. But the corporation management which does it without the consent of all the stockholders is properly speaking a criminal to be prosecuted and punished, as are other thieves engaged in subverting public order and justice.

Former B. & O. Conductor Internally Hurt Is Now In Hospital at Sandusky, Ohio.

A message from Sandusky brings the sad news that Conductor A. F. Richards is not expected to survive the injuries he sustained at Bellevue. Mr. Richards was for ten years a well-known Baltimore & Ohio employee, but he left his position as conductor here about four years ago to accept a similar offer from the C. & N. Y. company. His home is at 1342 Waverly avenue, Columbus, but two sisters, one brother, Martin, of Third street, and his mother live in this city. Mr. Daniel Manning, a brother-in-law, 28 Valandigham street, left for Sandusky Friday afternoon to be at Mr. Richards' bedside in Providence hospital. While riding on the side of a car at Bellevue he came in contact with another car, one arm being broken. He also sustained internal injuries which may cost him his life.

CAMP FIRE AT MEMORIAL HALL

VERY INTERESTING PROGRAM OF SPEECHES AND MUSIC THURSDAY NIGHT.

Captain Incho Told of Capture of Four, Single-Handed, During Civil War—Given Medal For It.

One of the most enjoyable and interesting entertainments ever held by the old soldiers in Newark was the "camp fire" held by the members of Lemert Post, No. 71, G. A. R., and their friends at the Post room in Memorial Hall on Thursday evening. There was an unusually large attendance of the old soldiers, who took great delight in reviving the memories of the Civil war.

The meeting was opened by Comrade David Thomas in a few remarks appropriate to the occasion, and he announced the program of the evening.

The first number on the program was a beautiful duet, rendered by the Misses McVeigh and Coulter, which was greatly appreciated by the old veterans.

Comrade L. H. Incho then gave his experience at the battle of Antietam, where he came in close contact with a number of Johnny Rebs, who showed him that they were made of good stuff, or at least thought so. Here it was that Comrade Incho showed the stuff he was made of, by capturing single-handed four rebels without the shedding of blood. Mr. Incho now wears a handsome medal, presented to him by Congress for bravery on this occasion.

Comrade Smith sang a song composed by himself, entitled "Sixteen to One," to the tune of "Happy Land," which was greatly enjoyed by those present.

Mr. M. O. Nash gave a short talk on "Fraternalism, Charity and Loyalty," which was very pleasing, especially to the old soldiers.

At this point Miss Hazel Thomas rendered a beautiful song, which captivated all hearers.

Comrade F. C. King gave an interesting talk on his recent trip to Denver and Colorado, describing the places of interest as he had seen them. A beautiful duet, rendered by the Misses Coulter and McVeigh was the next number on the program.

Col. Charles Kibler was the next speaker on the program. He made a few remarks appropriate to the occasion, and concluded by extending an invitation to all the old soldiers and sailors and their friends to attend the annual reunion of the Seventy-sixth regiment, O. V. I. to be held in G. A. R. hall on September 4.

One of the most taking features of the evening was the reciting of a poem by Comrade W. A. Lovett, entitled "The Old Canteen."

Squire J. R. Atcherley gave an interesting talk on "Old Age." He said the older the old soldier grows the more he is thought of and that it ought to be privilege to meet with the old comrades of 1861-5.

Comrade Edward Smith gave quite a talk on the first battle he participated in during the Civil war. Among other things he said that during the battle so many of the men in his command tried to get behind a certain tree that they crowded each other out and they were exposed to the bullets of the enemy.

The interesting meeting was closed by the singing of a beautiful number by Misses Coulter and McVeigh.

Mt. Vernon, O., Sept. 22.—On Tuesday night a peach orchard near Fredericktown was "burglarized," about ten bushels of fruit being stolen. The following morning the owner, whose name the authorities are keeping secret for the present, found a watch and chain hanging on a limb of one of the trees. The time-piece is valued at about $10. The authorities believe they know the owner of the watch and may make an arrest in a few days. Several nights ago the hen-house on the John Loveridge farm was entered. The next morning Mr. Loveridge found a watch and chain, which a Mt. Vernon jeweler says are worth $20, hanging on a nail in the little building. Mr. Loveridge is not able to state whether any of his fowls were stolen. As it is almost certain that the owner of the "tinker" will not return to claim it, Mr. Loveridge is probably the gainer on the visit paid the roost.

WILD RUMORS
Start a Run on a Chicago Institution
Which is Declared Solvent.
Chicago, Sept. 22.—Following the circulation of a rumor that the firm of Schiff & Co., steamship agents and bankers at 502 Jefferson street, had failed and that Benjamin J. Schiff, head of the organization, had disappeared, hundreds of depositors took part in a run on the bank. Nearly all the depositors belong to the working class. The alleged failure of the institution spread so rapidly that before the officials of the bank were aware of what was going on a crowd of nearly 2,000 excited persons had surrounded the place. A hurry up call was sent for the police, but before order could be restored it was necessary to make several arrests. Then the de-positors were admitted to the bank and all who wished were allowed to withdraw their money. The officials assert that the bank is solvent.

SURVEYORS ON TRACTION LINE
ENGINEERS HAVE BEEN AT WORK ON PROPOSED ROUTE FOR TEN DAYS.
Prominent Newark Men, Including
General Manager J. R. Harrigan,
Are Included in the Proposition.

Utica, O., Sept. 22.—Surveyors for the Newark, Utica, and Mt. Vernon Traction line have been on the route the past ten days. This is the road in which Dr. C. S. Morse, J. K. Hamill, J. R. Harrigan, F. A. Crane of Newark and others are interested.
The route out of Newark is from the square to Church street, thence to Fourth, and thence straight out of the city. The outlet has been secured.
From Newark to the south end of St. Louisville the side of the public highway is followed. Then, to avoid two bridges, the survey passes up the west side of the creek, where a roadway will be cut in the side of the hills.

The public road will be reached again at the north end of St. Louisville and will be followed to Willard Smoots' at the south edge of Utica.
If consent is given to cross the new iron bridge at that point, the course favored by the company is to come direct into Utica, up Main street to the north side of the Methodist church, thence west over a right of way which Vice President Wilson will give, crossing the creek to the Smoots farm and thence by way of Homer and Brandon to Mt. Vernon.

The course described avoids the difficulty of getting past the cemetery where Main street is narrow, and the trouble of getting out of town northward without crossing the B. and O. tracks.
The right of way to Homer and on to Brandon is largely secured. That route is but little longer than by way of the Range Line road, and it secures the business of a rich section and a good village.
If the right cannot be had to cross the iron bridge at the south end of Utica, the route will be from Willard Smoots' up the west side of the creek to Wilson Snair's and thence to Homer.
If the Columbus and Johnstown line connects at Homer, Utica will have a short line west as well as north and south.

A HELP TO GOOD THINGING.
The Right Cigar Makes Right
Thoughts Come at the Right Time.

There are a good many men in Newark who never start out to buy anything that may require a little bargaining without lighting a cigar. It is a fact that a good cigar helps a smoker to think and is often the means of making a good trade.
But the cigar has to be a good one,
like Wadsworth Bros.' "Chicos" cigar that smokes freely, with a pleasant flavor, and whose ash does not commit the unpardonable sin of coming off in little flecks.

Any one who wants a help to good thinking, should get a "Chico" from J. W. Collins & Son, and see how it is possible to sell for 5c. a cigar that is equal in quality to any 10c. cigar ever made. Try one and see what an aid to thought it is, as well as giving the perfect enjoyment that comes from a good smoke. 8-15-22 bank which was recently closed by order of the comptroller of the currency. The assessment amounts to amount to cover indebtedness to de-positors and other creditors and to provide the necessary surplus for resuming business. The bank will reopen Oct. 3.

Don't Starve Your Hair to Death
Many a head of Hair, apparently healthy, is slowly starving to death.

Hair must have sulphur or die.
When the blood fails to supply sulphur in sufficient quantities the hair loses its color, dies and falls out.
When this condition begins do not delay — in order to live, hair must have sulphur, and the combination containing sulphur that the roots of the hair will absorb is Wyeth's Cream of Sage and Sulphur

It will stop falling hair—will restore it to its natural color—and permit it to grow in three days. It is the best hair dressing made, because it makes the hair soft, glossy and beautiful, and is not sticky or greasy.

men under which a colored man was registered at the city prison Thursday afternoon after being arrested by Patrolmen Zergiebel and Carroll. Mc-Kinley is charged with having stolen a

A. O. U. W. DANCE AND BANQUET

GOLDEN ROD LODGE OPENS ITS FINE NEW ROOMS ON SOUTH SIDE.

About Three Hundred Attended Gathering Thursday Night—Dr. J. N. Palmer Acted As Toastmaster.

The members of Golden Rod lodge, No. 100, A. O. U. W., gave one of their delightful social functions at their handsome new headquarters on the south side of the square on Thursday night. The function was given in honor of the completion of the remodelled headquarters and consisted of a dance and banquet. Some two or three hundred people, consisting of the members of the order and their ladies, were in attendance, and the evening was most delightful throughout. Dancing began at 8 o'clock and continued until 10:30 o'clock a. m., when an elegant banquet was served, about two hundred guests sitting down to the first table. At the conclusion of the banquet dancing was renewed until 1 o'clock.

At the conclusion of the banquet Dr. J. N. Palmer, acting as toastmaster, introduced Judge E. M. P. Brister, who made a brief and happy address, reviewing the history of the lodge and the order, showing briefly what great good had been done by the Workmen. Mr. Edward McGonagle then told a story along the matrimonial line, which was highly appreciated by all.

Mr. J. W. Horner was then called out and responded in a few appropriate remarks, eulogistic of the order and the good work it had done.

WROTE LETTERS

To His Divorced Wife and the Wheeling Man Therefore Must Serve 15 Months.

Wheeling, W. Va., Sept. 22.—Fred C. Rievers, a Wheeling man, must spend 15 months in the State prison for writing letters to his divorced wife, now Miss Josephine Pleacher.

Judge Dayton, sitting in the United States court yesterday afternoon imposed this penalty, heeding at the same time the recommendation of the jury to clemency. Rievers' wife three years ago secured a partial divorce from her husband, and shortly after received the attentions of Charles Dietz, a well-known Wheeling baseball player.

This angered Rievers, and he wrote some letters which reflected upon his wife. Rievers contended that as his wife had only a partial divorce she could not testify against him, but the court ruled that she could testify to acts committed after the legal separation.

AERONAUT FELL FROM BALLOON

AND IN PANIC THE ZANESVILLE POLICE FEARED THAT A RIOT MIGHT RESULT.

Frazeybrug Officer Who Knocked Several People Down and Was Hit With Stone On Head.

Zanesville, O., Sept. 22.—Riotous scenes which threatened bloodshed were witnessed at the fair grounds yesterday afternoon during a panic which followed the accidental fall of an aeronaut from his parachute while about 150 feet in the air. The parachute opened within 25 feet of the ground and thus saved the aeronaut from death, though he is in a critical condition.

Thousands swarmed to the scene of the accident and the police were unable to keep back the crowds. A fair ground marshal, J. W. Blizzard, of Frazeybrug, rode horseback into the crowd and knocked down two men and a woman. This infuriated the people, who stoned and chased him clear across the grounds.

A stone struck Blizzard in the head, and he turned in his saddle and whipped out his revolver, which he pointed at the mob. Chief of Police Arter rushed up, grabbed the gun from his hands, when another stone hit Blizzard flush in the face. He then turned and rode swiftly from the grounds. Over 23,000 people witnessed the affair.
